

WHERE IS CARNO AT?

He Went to New York With $950 to Buy Goods.

WRITES HE'LL NOT RETURN

His Partner is Out $385 and His Pretty Landlady Mourns the Loss of Her Savings.

If half the things said about S. A. Carno are true, Mr. Carno is an embryo Napoleon of finance. Mr. Carno is now in New York, or is supposed to be, and is in possession of $850 of other people's money. Mr. Carno is himself authority for the statement that he will not come back, although the persons who entrusted him with their dollars will be glad to see him at any time.

Mr. Carno came to this city from Detroit about three months ago. He was an expert furrier, and soon formed a partnership with Mrs. C. T. Morton. They opened a store in the Waters row on Pearl street. Mrs. Morton furnished the money and Mr. Carno put in the experience. Business prospered. Mr. Carno was a good workman, and the establishment was patronized by many of the leading society women of the city. Mrs. Morton did not draw any money out of the profits, but Carno received about $200.

Went After Goods.
New goods were wanted for the winter trade, and a week ago yesterday Carno started for New York to make the purchase. Mrs. Morton gave him $950, and besides making payments on the goods, he was to stop in Detroit on his way home and pay a small bill that the firm owed there. Thanking Mrs. Morton for the money, Carno received a note from her stating that he was sick and tired of the business here, and would not return. Mrs. Morton was so indignant that she tore up the note immediately. She consulted a lawyer and was informed that criminal proceedings could not be brought against the departed partner.

In the meantime another evidence of Carno's waywardness came to light. He boarded at the residence of Mrs. Theresa Mendel, No. 70 Crescent avenue. Mrs. Mendel is a young and pretty widow. Carno paid her a great deal of attention and finally proposed marriage, but he was not accepted. Mrs. Mendel had implicit confidence in him, however. About a month ago he borrowed $200 of her on the representation that he needed it in his business. He promised to pay $15 a month for the use of the money, and gave her his bill as security in which he bequeathed her his interest in the firm.

Says She Will Shoot Him.
When Carno left for New York, he told Mrs. Mendel he was going to Detroit for a day or two. Then he borrowed a value of a fellow boarder in the house and left. Mrs. Mendel was very indignant yesterday and declared she would kill Carno if she ever met him again. It is said that Carno received letters from a Mrs. Wilkinson in Erie, Pennsylvania, and it is believed he has gone there.

Mrs. Morton is endeavoring to secure a competent furrier to take Carno's place, and has decided that will buy the firm's goods herself after this in case she takes in another partner. Carno may possibly return, but his associates are inclined to believe that he will not.

MOTHER AT 14 YEARS.

Case at the U. R. A. Home Referred to the Officers.

Among the registration of births in the board of health office yesterday, was one reported by Dr. William F. Hake that attracted some attention, owing to the extreme youth of the mother. The case was reported from the U. R. A. home. The mother was Miss Annie Rau, aged 14 years, and the father was reported as Frank Rau, aged 25 years. The newborn is a bright little girl, seven pounds and the mother and child are both doing nicely at the U. R. A. home. The date of the birth was recorded as November 30, 1903. The parents are unmarried and are cousins. Their parents are respectable farmers residing in the township of Byron, and it is said that the young man accomplished the ruin of his youthful cousin while he was in the home of her parents as an employee. When her condition became known he disappeared from the vicinity and a few weeks ago the unfortunate girl was brought to the U. R. A. home and placed in charge of Dr. Hake by her brother, who is a resident of this city. It is said that a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Frank Rau. The crime of which he is accused is one having an extreme penalty attached to it, the youth of the mother. Dr. Hake says Miss Rau is the youngest mother ever brought to his notice in this part of Michigan.

Informal Talk on Art.
A. H. Griffith of Detroit, chief counsel of the Michigan division, L. A. W., and director of the Detroit art museum, was to have delivered a lecture on art in the hall of the Bicycle club last night. A large number of local artists were present, but the hall was not heated, and most of them went home. An informal talk was given instead of the lecture.

DO NOT SUFFER

From Catarrh or Kindred Troubles
When Dr. Rankin's System of Home Treatment Will Cure You.

Many persons in the country are suffering from catarrh, bronchitis, asthma, and other allied diseases because they think they will have to come to the city for treatment. This is not the case, as Dr. Rankin has perfected a system of treatment that can be taken at your homes. By writing to him you can obtain a symptom blank that, properly filled out, will give him a perfect idea of your case. The medicine and treatment can be shipped to you by express, and all it will cost you is $5.00 a MONTH.

Read what Sylvanius Felton, a prominent farmer of Dorr, Michigan, says:

"He says: 'I am glad to add my recommendation to the many that have given Dr. Rankin standing and prominence as an accomplished physician. The case was a serious one. I had filling up of the nostrils, constant dripping of phlegm into my throat, keeping me hawking and spitting. My ears felt filled up and I was troubled greatly with a ringing and roaring noise, and my hearing was failing. My lungs were filled up, causing a very labored breathing and a continual cough. My general health, too, was failing gradually. In fact, I was in a serious condition. A friend of mine was cured by Dr. Rankin, so I concluded to try the doctor, too. The result has been almost marvelous. By the time I had taken the home treatment for six weeks I was almost a well man. Now the cough has stopped and my lungs are all right, my head is clear and I have stopped that continual hawking and spitting. My ears no longer ring and roar, my breathing is free and my general health good. I can heartily endorse the doctor's skill.'
